I. DETENTION ORDER

Defendant Willie Featherstone is charged in a one-count indictment with violation of 18 U.S.C. §922(g)(1)(felon in possession of a firearm and ammunition). The United States moved for Mr. Featherstone's detention and asked for a detention hearing as permitted by 18 U.S.C. §3142(f)(1). Pretrial Services prepared a full bail study, which the Court reviewed. On August 25, 2010, before the Court took proffers from either party as part of a formal detention hearing, defense counsel submitted the matter on the information provided in the bail study, but reserved the right to present additional information at a later date should Defendant's circumstances change.

DETENTION ORDER
CR 10-00523-DLJ (DMR)

1 After considering the limited information currently available to the Court, and the factors set
2 forth in 18 U.S.C. § 3142(g), the Court detains Mr. Featherstone and finds that no condition or
3 combination of conditions will reasonably mitigate the serious risk of flight or the danger that
4 Defendant poses to the community. See 18 U.S.C. §§3142(e) and (f); United States v. Motamedi,
5 767 F.2d 1403, 1406 (9th Cir. 1985).

6 Specifically, considering the factors in 18 U.S.C. §3142(g), the Court notes that Mr.
7 Featherstone's criminal history includes several violence or gun-related felony convictions, as 8 well as a significant recent history of parole violations.

9 II. CONCLUSION

10 The Court detains Mr. Featherstone as a serious flight risk as well as a danger to the 11 community. Because Mr. Featherstone waived his right to present information under 18 U.S.C.
12 §3142(f) without prejudice to raising relevant information at a later hearing, the Court orders that 13 the hearing may be reopened at Mr. Featherstone's request at a future time.

14 Mr. Featherstone shall remain committed to the custody of the Attorney General.

15 IT IS SO ORDERED.
